

City's Speed Limit Increased To 20 Miles To Comply With Law

New State Law Prohibits a Lesser Speed Limit and Common Council Adopts New Ordinance—Public Hearing on New Bus Ordinance on May 27—Other Matters.

The common council Tuesday evening adopted an ordinance fixing the speed limit in Kingston at 20 miles an hour to comply with the provisions of the new state law, which prohibits a lesser speed limit. The present speed limit is 15 miles an hour. The new ordinance, which was drafted by Corporation Counsel James Jenkins and submitted by Alderman Edinger, also provided that illuminated signs be placed at entrances to the city and at points where the speed was changed. All of the aldermen were present when President Dempsey called the meeting to order with the exception of Alderman Flannery of Wilbur, who was reported ill in a hospital in New York city.

New Bus Ordinance.
Alderman Belcher, of the bus committee, submitted a proposed bus ordinance and asked that it be referred to a public hearing to be held Tuesday evening, May 27, at 8 o'clock, at which time all bus owners, the chief of police and police board will be invited to be present.

Won't Lay Water Pipe.
A communication was received from the board of water commissioners relative to petitions made by residents of Mary's avenue and Main street extension asking for the extension of water service in those streets. The water board stated that as neither of the two streets conform to an established grade that the petitions could not be complied with. Later in the session Alderman Smith offered a resolution that the board of public works grade Main street extension so that the water board could extend the water service, which was referred to the public works board.

That Saturday Half Holiday.
Alderman Edinger, of the laws and rules committee, submitted a report that it had held a meeting earlier in the month, at which time the resolution offered by Alderman James J. Sweeney, of the Third ward, that all city employees be given a half holiday Saturday the year round with pay, had been withdrawn. The resolution offered by Alderman Neice that no fruits or foodstuffs be sold on the sidewalks in front of stores was already covered by an ordinance, and that the police department and board of health be requested to see to it that the ordinance is enforced.

Had Another Resolution.
Alderman Sweeney said that since the meeting of the laws and rules committee he had drawn up another resolution which he wanted to offer. The resolution as prepared by the Alderman from the Third ward read as follows: "That as the laws and rules committee at a meeting May 14 thought it best to withdraw the resolution on account of heavy taxes and high rent in the past, and whereas, the present administration is using every effort to economize and keep the tax rate down, and whereas, a half holiday would mean an expenditure of money and so long as it is a question of money I will withdraw the resolution on conditions that we establish working hours so our men can enjoy these half holidays Saturdays, that is by beginning to work at 7 a. m. till 12 m. and 12:30 to 4 o'clock and 12:30 quit on Saturdays, whereby the city isn't losing one minute by so doing and, gentlemen, they are only asking that it be fair and they are asking for it honorably, and I sincerely hope as we are trying to progress that your honorable body will grant the request that these employees of the street and water departments are asking for."

Has Council the Right?
Alderman Belcher, of the Second ward said that while he heartily favored the idea of a half holiday, it was a question if the common council had the right to change working hours. The board of public works and water commissioners may come back and ask us where we get our authority.

Alderman Schlip said he would like to ask the advice of the corporation counsel.
Judge Jenkins suggested that the resolution be referred to the laws and rules committee to report back later. President Dempsey referred the resolution to that committee.

Alderman Schlip was of the opinion that it should be referred to the laws and rules committee as it was a question of money.
Alderman Sweeney, the father of the resolution, said it was not a question of money. His resolution simply meant that for five days in the week the men worked 8 1/2 hours which allowed them a half holiday on the sixth day.

VonGonsick Obtain Consent.
The request of Martin Jordan, former proprietor of the New Palace-Kingston bus line, that the common council consent that the license grant him be transferred to VonGonsick Brothers to whom he had sold the bus line, was granted.

Van Wagenen Objected.
Alderman Everett of the Eleventh ward offered a resolution that a traffic officer be stationed at the intersection of Wall and John streets when traffic so warranted it.

Pageant Costumes Committee Busy

Work of Creating Authentic Period Designs of Costumes to be Worn at New Palace Pageant is Nearing Completion—Pageant Costumes Will be a Feature.

The creation of authentic period costumes for the pageant at old New Palace, under the direction of Mrs. Harvey G. Gregory and Helena M. Olds, has been going on for the past three weeks. Each type of dress has been carefully designed from plates of fashion in vogue two hundred and fifty years ago. No detail has been too small to be considered. Everything to make the costuming in general historically correct has been carefully worked out. The women of the village and of the school have turned in with a right good will. Every afternoon never less than twenty-five and frequently as many as fifty busy pairs of hands have plied the needle or used the shears. The work is not yet completed but it is far enough along to give the casual observer some idea of the enormity of the task that confronted the costume committee and which they are accomplishing so expeditiously.

The pageant costumes will be a feature of the celebration Tuesday afternoon, June 3. The eyes of the audience will drink in vivid and changing splashes of color. The one hundred and fifty singers in the chorus will be dressed in green smocks with white collars. The Twenty-first Regiment Band, which is to furnish music the entire afternoon and evening, will wear its full regalia. Against the picturesque background of the Wallkill with the rugged slope leading up to the mountains in the west will be staged colorful groups dressed in the quaint and striking vogue of 1660.

The tout-ensemble in which will blend costumes of the French and the Dutch; sailors and soldiers and Indians; will be further enhanced by the introduction of appropriate dance numbers all costumed to add to the scenes the fullest measure of beauty and grace. The list of those taking part in the pageant proper contains the names of 403 people. Add to this the 150 who sing in the choruses for each one of whom a smock had to be made, and one gets some idea of what the costume committee has done. Over a hundred Indian costumes are finished as are the twenty dresses for the girls taking part in French village dances. The uniforms for the Dutch soldiers and for the militiamen are well under way. Of course, many of those taking part are furnishing their own attire and in some cases such as the costumes for the twelve patentees, the proper garb has been rented from a New York costumer, but still the main burden has fallen upon the costume committee. To the romance and drama of the pageant the splendid imaginative abilities of the costume committee will add beauty and vivid contrasts in varied colors that will complete the picture Old New Palace is bending every effort to present on June 3.

The Unlucky Thirteen.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Toulon, France, May 21.—During target practice today a shell exploded in the gun turret of the French school ship Patrie, seriously wounding 13 persons.

First ward asked that the resolution be read again and then observed "That in the First ward, and I did not think it customary for an alderman to offer a resolution in another ward, and therefore I want to object to this resolution." He said that two years ago he had offered a resolution covering some matter in another ward and had been called down for so doing by the common council.

Alderman Schlip said that the alderman from the First ward was right and that while there may not be any law against an alderman offering a resolution for something in a ward not his own it was not the custom and for that reason moved that the Everett resolution be tabled which was done.

Motions and Resolutions.

The following resolutions were offered by the aldermen:

Alderman Smith—That low spots on Linderman avenue be filled in in front of the Schepmoes residence.

Alderman Neice—That board of public works repair Clinton avenue as the road in the car tracks was filled with holes and ruts; that the board of public works look into the matter of a garage on Park avenue which is built partly on the street, and something should be done about it; that board of public works replace an electric light in front of 62 Van Buren street as the present light had been out of order for over a week.

Alderman Selitz—That board of public works repair grate over catch basin at Union and Hone streets; that catch basin at German and Hone streets be repaired; that board of public works cover up oil on Hunter and German streets as it lay in pools on the street; that catch basin at Hunter and Ravine streets be cleaned. Bills and claims were read and referred to the auditing committee and the council then adjourned.

Day Line Steamer Cost $800,000

Latest New Steamer a Beautiful and Welcome Addition to Hudson River Transportation Facilities.

Welcomed by the salutes from many passing vessels the new "Alexander Hamilton" reached New York last week from the Sparrows Point Ship Yard, Maryland, where she was built. The "Alexander Hamilton" came up under her own steam outside from the Capes of the Chesapeake. She proceeded up the Hudson to Pier 31 where she will be carefully groomed before entering the Hudson River Day Line service. She will make her first trip on Thursday, May 29th.

The "Alexander Hamilton" is a side-wheel steamer, 348 feet long and 76 feet in beam, with a licensed capacity for over 4,000 passengers. She burns oil for fuel and in accommodations, in decks and in general arrangement bears considerable resemblance to other Day Line steamers. Her two stacks are placed fore and aft like the two of the "Hendrick Hudson".

The "Alexander Hamilton" will at once enter active service on the Hudson River Day Line, the regular daily and Sunday sailings of which between New York and Albany were resumed for the season on May 17th and will continue until October 19th. Her advent marks the fifth new steamer to be added to the Day Line fleet since 1900 and will enable this popular line to care for week-end and holiday demands better than ever before.

The "Alexander Hamilton" was designed by J. W. Millard & Brother, built by the Sparrows Point Yards of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, and cost approximately $800,000. Her keel was laid April 2, 1922.

With the "Alexander Hamilton" the fleet of the Hudson River Day Line now comprises six modern and luxuriously equipped steamers—unique of their kind and a distinctive American contribution to the problems of inland water transportation. They carry no freight of any type but are all designed for first class passenger transportation.

Four Oil-Burners.

Until the fall of 1922, all of the vessels were coal burners. It was then decided to convert the "DeWitt Clinton" to an oil burner, using the Peabody Engineering Corporation type of wide range mechanical burner. The results surpassed all expectations. In addition to noting greatly reduced fuel costs, Day Line officials are impressed with the additional comfort to passengers in the elimination of chimneys. As a result of the successful experience with the "DeWitt Clinton" contracts were placed to convert the "Hendrick Hudson" and the "Washington Irving" into oil burners, all using the same Peabody system as also installed on the "Alexander Hamilton".

A Side-Wheel Steamer.
For service on the Hudson river all the way from New York to Albany the side-wheel steamers have many advantages over steamers with propellers. The former can be built of less draft, as the propellers do not require immersion much beyond the width of the bucket. They can be handled better as they can approach the docks at a fair speed and then be brought to an almost immediate stop. The paddles or buckets are large and when the engines are stopped or reversed they act like an emergency brake.

Descendant of Fulton's "Clermont."

As Robert Fulton's "Clermont" was a side-wheel and ran over the same course between New York and Albany as will the "Alexander Hamilton," the latter may be said to be a descendant and the latest development of the world's first commercially successful steamboat.

Socialist Will Follow Poincare

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, May 21.—Edouard Herriot, Socialist leader who will undoubtedly succeed Raymond Poincare as premier, arrived from Lyons today and conferred for an hour and a half with President Millerand upon the domestic financial situation.

Others in the conference were Premier Poincare and Paul Painleve, who will probably hold the post of foreign minister in the new government. Herriot said the conference had avoided reparations and other international issues.

Herriot will visit President Millerand and again confer.

The foreign communiqué was issued at the Elysee Palace:

"At the suggestion of Premier Poincare, Minister of Finance Marshal explained France's financial situation to M. Herriot. M. Herriot and M. Painleve affirmed their adhesion to a policy of vigorous equalization of the national budget."

Urging Russia To Pay.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Fountain Pen Bandit Killed

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, May 21.—Firing from the running board of a moving automobile, Policeman Adam Holzschneider shot and killed an unidentified bandit early today. Then leaping from the automobile he captured the robber's companion Herman Manstert, who said he was a printer living in Jamaica.

Manstert said he knew the dead man only as "Joe."

The death of the unnamed bandit and the capture of Manstert has ended, police said, an epidemic of robberies in the Elmhurst section of Queens in which the robbers specialized in the theft of fountain pens and jewelry.

The shooting occurred while the two men were alleged to have been in the act of robbing Walter Rankowitz, only a block from a police booth in Elmhurst.

While the robbers were searching Rankowitz, an automobile came along. It was Edgar Humphrey, he saw what was occurring, and drove quickly to the police booth.

"There's a holdup in this block," Humphrey shouted to Holzschneider when he entered the booth.

With Humphrey at the wheel of the automobile, and Holzschneider clinging to a door, the car sped to the scene.

The robbers saw it coming and started to run.

Holzschneider opened fire. One fleeing man stumbled, fell, rose and ran on.

Holzschneider leaped to the street and took after the man who was not hit. He was captured a block away.

The bandit known only as "Joe" was found dead by other police who arrived at the scene. He was of foreign type and about 30.

In Manstert's possession, police say they found a fountain pen, silver pencil and $75 which had been taken from Rankowitz.

This was the second bandit to be killed by New York policemen this week. Policemen James P. Diamond shot and killed Raymond E. Beetha in Brooklyn Monday night following the holdup of a cigar store.

Grand Jury Asks Questions

Tuesday afternoon the members of the grand jury, which is in session, came into supreme court after the noon recess and asked for instructions from Judge Rosch in regard to a question of law. The grand jury has been investigating the matter of The People vs. Samuel Bonie and had been unable to come to a decision in the matter which involved the securing of a sum of money from Ida Bonie by the defendant who promised to pay her by giving her an interest in a certain mortgage about to be drawn, but which he failed to do.

The information in the case was presented to the court together with the complaint in the case and the members of the grand jury asked these two questions:

"Do the facts set forth in the following statement, together with those contained in the information hereto annexed, constitute a crime under the laws of the state?"

"If so, what crime?"

From the information presented the court it would appear that Samuel Bonie of the town of Wawarsing had procured from Ida Bonie about $2,000 which she had procured from her daughter, Lillian Hosseloff. He procured the money on the representation that it was to be used to pay off a certain mortgage on the Samuel Bonie property which was held by one Schoonmaker and that the money had been used for that purpose. That he further agreed to secure Ida Bonie's loan for her by assigning to her a half interest in a certain mortgage then not in existence but which was about to be drawn. This he had failed to do.

Whether the securing of the money from Ida Bonie and failure to comply with this last condition constituted a crime was the question which the grand jury sought of the court an answer, and if a crime had been committed what the crime was.

Judge Rosch after reviewing the information in the case stated that it appeared from the information that the money was loaned to defendant on a promise by him and that the promise had not been fulfilled. In his opinion the act constituted a breach of agreement and not a crime under the law of the state. He replied in the negative to the first question which was submitted and stated that in view of the answer in the negative to the first question that no crime had been committed it was not necessary to answer the second question.

The grand jury then retired to continue their investigation of matters brought before them.

For Damages To a Team, Wagon and Harness—Defendant Fails To Appear—Inquest In Action Brought By J. F. Smith Against R. J. Straney, For Injuries Received In Automobile Accident.

A verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $225 was returned by the jury in the case brought by the Hercules Powder Company against A. E. The action was to recover for damage to a team, wagon and harness, owned by the plaintiff which was damaged by the automobile of defendant. A. C. Connelly appeared for the plaintiff and there was no appearance on the part of defendant.

An inquest was taken Tuesday afternoon, in an action brought by Joseph F. Smith against Robert J. Straney, Smith was a passenger in an automobile last October, which was struck by the car of the defendant on the Highland-Kingston road near West Park. The car in which Smith was riding was going north on the road and the Straney car was proceeding south in a line of cars. Near a sharp turn in the road the Straney car attempted to swing out of a line and pass the other cars ahead of him. There was a collision in which Mr. Smith was thrown from the car in which he was riding. He suffered a broken leg, a broken nose, an injured ankle and severe cuts and bruises. He was confined to the Benedictine Hospital for some time and for about 20 weeks was unable to work. He seeks to recover damages for injuries and loss of time. Chris J. Flanagan appeared for Mr. Smith.

Tax Reduction Bill Agreed On

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, May 21.—Complete agreement on the 1924 tax reduction bill, and the adjustment of all differences between the house and senate, was reached today.

The tax bill in final form represents a compromise between the so-called Longworth (Republican) plan and the Simmons (Democratic) rates, and as it stands the Democrats can claim at least a fifty per cent authorship of the measure.

The Democrats were successful in writing into the final draft their rates on incomes, ranging from 2, 4 and 6 per cent on the smaller incomes, up to 40 per cent on huge incomes. The conferees agreed to these in preference to the Longworth rates, which fixed a maximum surtax at 37 1/2 per cent, as compared with the original Mellon program of a 25 per cent maximum and three and six per cent normal tax.

The provision providing for publicity of tax returns—held obnoxious by both President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon, was stricken out of the bill entirely. Instead of this kind of publicity the bill will authorize the secretary of the treasury to permit publication of the names of tax payers in their local districts, together with the amount of tax paid, but there will be no divulging of the secrets of the returns themselves.

The estate and gift tax was fixed on a sliding scale up to 40 per cent. The tax on undistributed earnings for corporations was left at 12 1/2 per cent—the figure approved by Secretary Mellon.

The provision for a tax on second class postal matter was stricken out, as was the proposed five per cent tax on automobile parts and accessories.

The conferees agreed upon the provision making public all sessions and decisions of the Federal board of tax appeals. The decisions shall be made public in writing in every case affecting cases of $10,000 or more. This was one of the amendments added to the bill in the senate by the Democratic-insurgent coalition.

The coalition scored another victory when the house provision for an indirect tax upon tax exempt securities was stricken out of the bill. This provision was defeated in the senate after being hotly condemned by the progressive group.

The conference report was agreed to unanimously by all of the conferees and will be called up first in the senate on Friday.

Senator Smoot, Republican of Utah, chairman of the senate finance committee, said after the agreement that he expected President Coolidge to sign the bill.

It will become effective thirty days after the date of its signature by the president.

The conferees estimated that the new law will effect a total reduction of $472,620,000 annually.

Strawberry Weevil Control In Hudson Valley

Insect May Destroy 80 Per Cent of Crop Unless Proper Measures are Taken—History, Habits and Method of Control.

Probably the most injurious insect that the strawberry growers of the Hudson Valley have to contend with is the strawberry weevil. The ravages of this beetle may amount to 80 per cent or more of the crop on some varieties in severely infested locations where proper control measures are not employed. Experience has shown that growers who have followed the recommendations of the Spray Service men in the Hudson Valley have secured good results. A considerable study of the life history, habits, and control of this insect has been made both in United States and Canada and the following article is based upon the results of these studies:

Life History and Habits.

The adult insect is a small snout beetle scarcely  $\frac{1}{8}$  inch long, and, except for size, rather similar in general appearance to the plan curculio to which it is related. The insect is ordinarily rather sluggish but will play possum by folding up its legs and dropping from the plant when disturbed.

The adult insect hibernates over the winter in the trash or rubbish in or near the planting. In the spring as the strawberry blossom buds begin to show, the weevil gradually foresees its winter quarters for the strawberry patch and with the advent of warm weather it may appear in destructive numbers. On bright warm days the weevil becomes active and attacks the plants, piercing the unopened buds with its long beak and feeds upon the essential parts of the flower. Some of the buds thus injured by the adult in feeding may go on developing but the fruit is nearly always malformed and unmarketable. However, the most destructive injury is produced by the female's peculiar egg-laying activities. The female in preparing to lay an egg climbs upon the bud, selects a place near the apex and makes a puncture in the unopened blossom. She then turns and deposits the egg in this puncture. After the egg is laid the female alights the flower stalk about  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch below the bud. The injured bud may soon be distinguished from the others by its dried out appearance but may hang for several days before it drops. Some buds contain only one egg while in others from two to four may be found; however, as a general rule only one of these reaches maturity.

From six to ten days after the egg is laid a small legless grub emerges, and at once begins to feed upon the pollen. As the grub within the blossom bud increases in size, it attacks the other floral parts, and by the time it attains full growth the whole inside of the bud is usually destroyed, leaving only the hard outer shell. The pupa which resembles the adult to some extent remains within the bud for about ten or twelve days. At the end of this time which in average years is about the end of June, the insect which has now reached the adult stage commences to appear and for two months it feeds upon the underside of the leaves of strawberry, raspberry, and similar plants. With the approach of cool weather in the fall, the beetle seeks hibernating quarters in old fence rows and similar locations near the strawberry plantings.

Factors to Be Considered.

Observations show clearly that dry, warm weather is favorable to the activities of the insect and hence to injury; whereas damp or cool weather is unfavorable. Since both the adult and the larva feed upon the pollen, only the perfect, semi-perfect and staminate varieties are severely injured. Close observation should be kept of such varieties as: William Delt, Big Joe, Senator Dunlap and Dubach for the work of this insect.

The severity of the infestation is largely governed by the age of the plantation and some insects are found on a one-year-old strawberry bed there are almost sure to be more the second or subsequent years. Counts made of the injuries have definitely established this fact. This is probably because the buds on the old plantations appear younger and so are in a condition to be attacked by the weevil as soon as it comes out of its hibernating quarters. The small flower stalks of the buds on old plantations may also be a factor in a greater infestation because it would appear that the weevil nips the buds with the small flower stalks more readily than those with the large ones.

The proximity to old strawberry patches, wood, shrubs, grassy head lands, brush heaps, etc., also appears to be a factor in the severity of the outbreak. This is no doubt due to the fact that these conditions offer excellent opportunities for hibernation and easy migration to the plantation.

The weevils have a tendency to become located in definite more or less restricted areas in the planting so that the growers should make a complete examination, otherwise injury may be overlooked.

Control Measures.

The experiments conducted in the Hudson valley and in other strawberry growing sections as well as observations in commercial plantings have shown that results obtained from dust applications are superior to those obtained from liquid sprays. Many growers have obtained very satisfactory control during past seasons from the use of copper-lime lead arsenate dust consisting of 12 parts of dehydrated copper sulfate, 14 parts lead arsenate and 74 parts of hydrated lime.

A sulfur lead arsenate dust should be used cautiously if at all on strawberry plants because some growers have experienced injury to their plantings after the application of this dust. The dust should be applied as soon as the weevils are causing sufficient injury to warrant the application and it should be repeated every 10 days or two weeks as long as they are actively injurious. Avoid using excessive amounts and apply when the weather is cool either in the morning or evening. If a mechanical duster is available this is the best means of applying the dust but an ordinary coarse muslin bag shaken over the plants will give fairly satisfactory results on small plantings.

Clean cultivation and the removal of rubbish are very important aids in the control of the pest. These methods also reduce the danger of loss from the mildew and leaf spot diseases of the strawberry.

In locations where the weevil has been a pest for several years the planting of only enough staminate varieties to secure proper cross pollination is strongly recommended.

Fringe-Decorated Dress Popular French Fashion

This rich new fringe dress, made up of tan material and ornamented with green and red brocade and long chenille of tan and red, is popular in Paris.

Three-Piece Costume in Fashion Picture

The three-piece costume is with us again in silk and twills. Most gorgeous and clever as well as smartly tailored costumes are to be found. Black and all the more popular colors may be found in silk in a wide range of weaves. Crepe is much favored by the women who must consider the wearing qualities. Nothing will add so to the wardrobe of the summer tourist. With such a costume there is that assurance that comes with being well dressed. It is a dress for dinner or a suit for morning or afternoon wear and all the time complete comfort.

A three-piece costume with cape of sand-colored faille is trimmed with appliques of printed roshanara in red and sand. The motifs are embroidered in ribbon and silver thread.

A perfectly straight black satin backed crepe dress with nothing for sleeves but more ruffles of the same material in about two-inch widths that are made double, much as the ruffs of Sir Raleigh's time, is worthy of note. A combined skirt and cape of the same material is the unique thing about this dress. The cape is finger-tip length and has a collar of wide double ruffle effect as the trimming on the dress. This cape when not used as a wrap may be buckled about the wrist and forms a mobile overskirt with a wide puff ruffle at the waistline. This is a most attractive gown for the slender maid. A bright buckle is the decidedly brilliant spot on the dress. This swing from the inch-and-a-half-wide belt that acts also as a collar when the cape is utilized.

Blouses are not as popular in these latest three-piece costumes as the straight one-piece dresses. They may be made most effeminate or as tailored and mannish as desired. Material used will have much to do with the final effect of such a suit.

New Underblouses Are Among Chic Garments

In the category of more practical accessories are the new underblouses. They serve the purpose of the chemise of net or lace which has been in evidence for many seasons, but which has never been fashioned in any very satisfactory form.

These new models are a sort of waistcoat, made of silk or crepe, lace or muslin, and simulate the long-waisted overblouse. They have the definite advantage of being less clumsy than the regular blouse, having no sleeves, are cooler and the effect is the same. Those in the less sheer materials are quite tailored, and are trimmed, simply, with tiny buttons, attaching, or a bit of needlework. Others of handsome Irish, Cluny or any of the wash laces are sometimes combined with the sheerest embroidery or hand-tucked net, and are very beautiful.

Combination of Bad Elements. A mob is a compound mass of human beings in which each one has for the moment all the follies and evil passions of the rest. In addition to this own—Sir Arthur Helps.

Ulster Classis Spring Meeting

(Official Report.)

The second spring conference of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Classis of Ulster was held in the Reformed Church of Port Ewen on Friday, May 16, at 10:30. The conference was called to order by the president, Mrs. M. A. Weed of Kingston, who appointed the committee on resolutions, also the place committee. After the singing of a hymn, prayer was offered by the Rev. M. F. Luther, pastor of the church. Mrs. C. B. Dickinson of Kingston, taking "Peace" as her topic, conducted Scripture reading, with responses from auxiliaries present; these Scriptural responses having been selected by the leader.

The roll call of auxiliaries was responded to with splendid reports by Bloomingdale, High Falls, Ulster Park, Flatbush, Hurley, Roxbury and Church of the Comforter, Fair Street Reformed and First Dutch Reformed of Kingston. This was followed by a hymn. Then Miss Elizabeth Vermilye brought greetings from the Woman's Board of Domestic Missions. She said the ministry and aim of the work of this board is for America and its needs, and all are working in the various fields for a revival of the spirit of Christian idealism. One hundred eighty thousand dollars has passed through the board in its recent work there being 25 student missionaries who are cared for through the board. In the work among the Indians, whose deadly foe is tuberculosis, the percentage of those afflicted with the dread disease has been very much lowered where they have been taught the need of sanitary conditions and proper food. She spoke too of the wonderful work done by Mr. Ohori, the Japanese worker in this country, his work here, bearing fruit in his native land as well as here. Miss Vermilye closed with a request for renewed loyalty to Christ, and thanks for the privilege of working with Him for the redemption of the world.

The conference then adjourned for a basket lunch, which was followed by a social hour, so that the members of the united classes might become better acquainted. The afternoon session was opened with a hymn, followed by prayer by Mrs. Smith of Hurley.

Miss O. H. Lawrence then presented the plans for the work of the Golden Jubilee of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions, giving instructions to the jubilee representative of each auxiliary. She suggested as a slogan in getting new members the word, "Togetherness," separating it as togetherness. The aim of the jubilee is 100,000 intercessors, 100,000 members, 29 new missionaries, and $100,000 for mission buildings before 1925. The mission buildings needed are a girls' school and missionary home in Arabia, a home for nurses and women in India, homes for single missionaries in Japan and a girls' school in Amoy, China. During the offertory the words, "Win a million members by 1925" were sung to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

There had not been time for the roll call of all the societies in the morning, so the remainder was called at this time and fine reports were given by representatives from North Marlborough, Port Ewen, St. Remy, Woodstock and Accord. Miss Harriet M. Lansing, missionary to Japan, told of her work there, in that "big little" land of 66,000,000 of people. She spoke of the great need of schools, and homes for the missionaries, as the natives do not want to rent their houses to Christians. She asked especially for our prayers for those who don't know and don't want to know.

Miss Searle, chairman of the committee on resolutions, offered the resolutions thanking the entertaining church, and all who had contributed to the helpfulness and joy of the conference. The place committee reported that the fall conference would be held in the Fair Street Reformed Church, Kingston. After singing the doxology, the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Seeley.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale
BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE UMBRELLA TREE

The Umbrella Tree had heard that Billie Brownie had been to visit the Swamp White Oak and had asked that Billie Brownie should come to visit him.

"Can't Billie Brownie come and see me?" the Umbrella Tree asked Mother Nature.

"I will see if he has no other engagement—or rather if he can come between engagements, for he is a very busy Brownie."

"If he can come I will certainly be pleased and I think he will be too, for you are one of my children, and I like to have Billie Brownie call on my children."

"He tells others about my children and of their ways and of their looks and of what they like."

"I will ask him, Umbrella Tree."

The Umbrella Tree thanked Mother Nature and waited anxiously to see if Billie Brownie could come.

When he received his invitation he looked at the Sun's Rays to see what time it was—which was Billie Brownie's way of telling the time, and he said:

"Yes, I've time, and I'd be delighted to call on the Umbrella Tree."

So to the Umbrella Tree came Billie Brownie.

"You see," the Umbrella Tree explained, "I was particularly anxious that you should come and call on me for I had been told that you had visited the Swamp White Oak and I wanted to tell you that I, too, loved swamps."

"I don't care to stand in them in just the way Swamp White Oak does,"

"I Think You're Most Interesting."

but I like to be nearby and feel their moisture."

"I like to be on the edge of a swamp, or I love to be on a bank of a running stream—particularly of a mountain stream."

"It is true I will grow and behave very nicely in a park or in a garden, but I must have quite rich soil or earth."

"I don't mean to be funny, but I was brought up that way and the family ways are always the same. We cannot change them."

"Nor," he added, "do we want to change them."

"You look very much like your name," said Billie Brownie.

"That's what they all say," the Umbrella Tree replied.

"And it pleases me very much. It is something as though some one said to a little girl:

"How much you do look like your mother." She is pleased to hear that. "All we trees look like nice gay, green umbrellas."

"If you will notice you will see that our white flowers are surrounded by leaves which look as though they were acting as little umbrellas for the flowers."

"So we are well named."

"But I suppose it seems funny to you that we should love it where it is damp when we are always protected by umbrellas."

"It isn't so funny when you stop to think of it. You see if we liked it where it was dry we wouldn't have any need of umbrellas."

"We belong to the great Magnolia family and we are very proud of this fact!"

"I should think you would be," said Billie Brownie, "and I am most happy that I was asked to come and see you, for I think you're most interesting, most interesting," he ended, as he made a handsome bow in farewell."

Disappointment Enough

A small miss who had but recently mastered her catechism confessed her disappointment with it thus: "Now, I obey the fifth commandment and honor my papa and mamma, yet my days are not a bit longer in the land, for I'm put to bed every night at 7 o'clock just the same."

Last Teeth Are False

"What are the first teeth called?" asked the teacher of the juvenile class. "Milk teeth," answered the class in chorus.

"Correct. Now who can tell me what the last teeth are called?" One little fellow raised his hand.

"Well, Tommy," said the teacher, "you may answer."

"False teeth," responded Tommy.

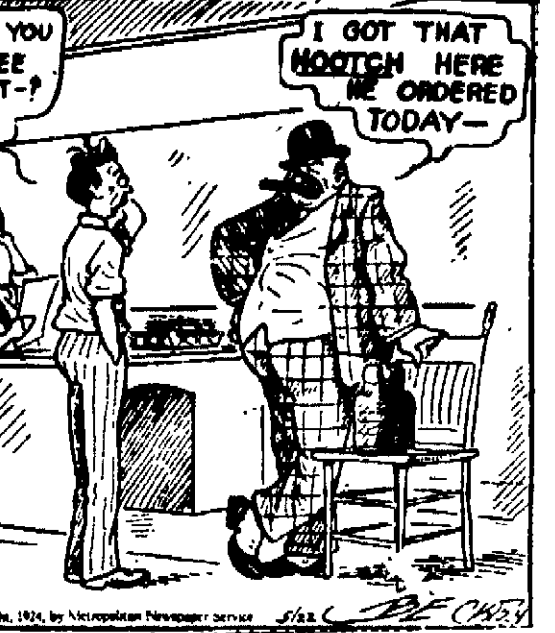

Didn't Like Grasshopper

Little Beanie had never seen a lobster before, and when dining at the home of a playmate she was offered a portion. She replied politely, "No, thank you; I never eat grasshoppers."

All pale, weak and run down people are asked to try Burke's Cod Liver Oil and Iron, in pleasant tablet form, for two weeks. If you fail to see improvement your druggist will refund your money.

GAS BUGGIES—Those Things Will Happen in Spite of Us.

(C) 1924, Western Newspaper Union

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever; Its loveliness increases; it will never Pass into nothingness, but still will keep A bower quiet for us, and a sleep Full of sweet dreams, and health, and quiet breathing."

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY

A good warm-weather dish is the one which is prepared as follows:

Sauer Braten.—Take four pounds of beef, wipe it with a damp cloth and place in a large bowl with a large onion sliced, allspice, pepper and a little celery root, with one cupful each of vinegar and water. Let stand twenty-four hours. Then remove the meat, wipe well and sear in hot fat. Cut the celery and onions into small pieces and add to the meat. Season with salt and pepper and add a little water. Bring to the boiling point and simmer for several hours until the meat is very tender. Remove the meat to a hot platter, cream a tablespoonful of butter with one of flour and add to the strained gravy. Cook until thick, adding four crumbled ginger snaps to give flavor and color. Serve with cauliflower or brussels sprouts as a vegetable.

Savory Potatoes.—Arrange a half-dozen potatoes in a shallow baking dish, add one-fourth cupful of water, six tablespoonfuls of olive oil, two onions minced, one teaspoonful of salt, a few dashes of pepper. Bake an hour or more, basting often until the potatoes are soft and brown.

Apples a la Manhattan.—Pare and core eight medium-sized apples. Cut pieces of sponge cake into rounds an inch in thickness and the size of an apple. Sprinkle the cake rounds with sugar and set into the oven until the sugar melts. Make a syrup of a cupful each of sugar and water, cook the apples very slowly in the syrup. When tender, drain and put an apple on each piece of cake. Add half a glass of jelly to the syrup, cook until it is quite thick, then pour over the whole. Garnish with whipped cream and candied cherries.

If a cream soup scorchers slightly, add a teaspoonful of peanut butter after stirring it well in a dish of cold water. The peanut butter will disguise any unpleasant taste.

Proclamation By Mayor Block

The following proclamation has been made by Mayor Block:

Kingston has never failed to respond to any appeal on behalf of suffering humanity when the cause was worthy and the need urgent. Wednesday and Thursday, May 28 and 29, have been set aside as "Bundle Days" for the Near East Relief in this city. On this day we are asked to give our used clothing, blankets, shoes and overcoats in order that some destitute refugee orphan in the Near East may be kept warm next winter. We are asked to take or send our bundle to one of the central receiving stations in order that the committee may be spared the expenses of collecting individual bundles. Bundle stations will be located as follows: Downtown, fire station, Abel street; central section, City Hall; uptown, fire station, Fair street.

With the exception of food there is no greater need than that of clothing. Winters in many parts of the Near East are similar to those in the Northern United States and many of the refugees lack even the most miserable rags with which to clothe their bodies.

Therefore, I, the Mayor of the city of Kingston, ask that the people of this city respond to this appeal for warm clothing and shoes that comes to us from Bible lands.

Given under my hand and the seal of the city of Kingston this 20th day of May, 1924.

MORRIS BLOCK,
Mayor.

Cities to Act On Local Bills

Home Rule Amendment Will Lessen Work of Next Legislature—New Ruling Also Should Prevent "Log Rolling."

By Telegraph to the Freeman.
Albany, May 21.—The 1925 State Legislature is certain to differ in many respects from all previous sessions because of the Home Rule amendment.

Because of the amendment, no local bills will be introduced in the next legislature except where an emergency exists. Local measures would have to be passed by a two-thirds vote in both senate and assembly, and with the aid of a certificate of necessity from the governor.

In the past, hundreds of purely local bills have been introduced in both houses. They have clogged the calendars, made necessary many hearings and in some instances have tied up far more important state-wide measures.

Under the home rule enabling act, passed by the last legislature and signed by Governor Smith, all cities are empowered to legislate for themselves through their local legislative bodies.

One thing that the home rule amendment should accomplish, if nothing else, is to shorten the annual sessions of the legislature. Legislative leaders in the past have insisted they would have been able to adjourn from a month to six weeks earlier had it not have been for the local bills.

It also should prevent "log rolling" to a certain extent. In the past the individual member has been able to hold a sort of a club over the head of the leaders by saying he would not vote for some important measure if he could not be assured that his particular local bill would be passed. Many times the leaders have had to pass local bills which they did not really believe should be passed in order to hold some member "in line" on an important bill.

The home rule amendment also is certain to make the work of the governor during the thirty-day period much easier. More than half of the 700 odd bills which Governor Smith had to dispose of during the 30-day period just passed were local measures which were jammed through both houses during the closing hours of the session.

After the Storm

(To the Captain.)
The raging storm has taken toll
Is crippled spar and shroud;
But through the gale the ship you
Urged,
Aloft her flag flew proud.
You've fought with crueler foe and grim
Than war-mad Greek or Hun.
To battle nature's elements
You faced the storm—and won!
The onslaught of the charging waves
Plunged javelins of spray.
The tearing tide, the jagged reefs
That crouch to rend their prey.
Such foe that knows no fear you met,
Courageous heart, brave
With steady hand and iron will
The storm gods' wrath you tame.
Your place today is nobler far
Than regal power or might.
For monarchs rule through others' toil,
But you—by manhood's right!
—Clementine Lewis.

Dog Kills Wildcat

An Alredale terrier and a young wildcat were pitted against each other recently at the fair grounds in Florence, S. C., in a "fight to death," the dog proving himself superior to its supposedly less tame opponent. Several hundred persons witnessed the fight. The Alredale was brought there to settle an argument as to whether the dog or the cat would prove the superior in battle.

The fight was staged in a caged-in arena in front of the grand stand. The dog had finished his adversary in less than ten minutes and was barely scratched in the encounter.

On the day of the fight much opposition arose, especially among the women, to the fight, but it was held according to schedule. It was said that there is no law in South Carolina that would prohibit the staging of such fights.—Our Dumb Animals.

Voiceless Bids

By secret hand clasps with the auctioneer, native purchasers attending the annual auction of jade quarried during the year in Burma, communicate to him the prices they wish to pay for the various pieces. The day before the auction, the stones, each bearing a numbered card and cut so the interiors can be seen, are exhibited to the prospective buyers. As the auctioneer calls off the numbers, the buyers rush up to him and, grasping his hands and wrists, which are hidden under the long white sleeves of his garment, tell by grips the price they are willing to bid.—Popular Mechanics.

Walking Stick Perambulators

Babies are born in apartment houses, landlords notwithstanding, and owing to lack of space many an infant has to go without a perambulator. However, an ingenious father has solved the problem by making a perambulator that folds up like a camp stool and which has wheels and a socket and brace through which the proud father's walking stick can be instantly fitted and used as a handle for pushing it along. It will be commercially produced.

Robin Would Like To

Anna, five years old, and her mother were standing by a window watching a robin build its nest. The air was chilly, and the ground was covered with a light snow. The robin had alighted in a tree nearby, carrying a match to add to its nests. This Anna quickly observed, and exclaimed to her mother, "Look, mother, it's going to build a fire to warm its feet."

SAUGERTIES BANK TO BUY MAXWELL OPERA HOUSE.

The Saugerties Post says:
The First National Bank directors at a recent meeting decided to purchase the Maxwell Opera House building on Main street and convert the east end of the building into a modern up-to-date banking house for their own occupancy. It is the plan in mind of the bank's directors to build a wall up through the present building between the part occupied as the American Legion headquarters and Lasher's market and this will give the bank a separate building which will embrace the stores occupied by Lasher's market and Lark & Moran, and also give them a frontage nearer to the main business section of the village.

The bank will remodel this part of the building and equip it with the latest approved fixtures, etc., and when completed will have a banking house that will be a source of great pride in itself and also the community.

The alterations to the building will necessarily mean the obviating of Maxwell Opera House on the second floor, which has been in use for a period of fifty years as an amusement and playhouse. The building was erected by John Maxwell, father of James T. Maxwell, and the late Mrs. Samuel J. Adams. The building for a number of years has been owned by the estate of Mrs. Adams.

New Discovery Stops The Ravages of Age

Wipes Out Wrinkles in 10 Minutes.
Prevents Facial Ageing

Time was when beauty was helped before the ravages of age. First, tiny wrinkles came, then deepened; flabbiness developed. Age showed first in the face and hands—showed first in the world to see. But now science has come to beauty's rescue!

A noted Spanish Chemist, Jacques Ruanano, who has devoted much time and energy in research along this line, has at last discovered a harmless preparation that removes wrinkles in 10 minutes!

This discovery is in the form of a scientific combination of pure vegetable oils which its discoverer has called Onamor. This marvelous preparation rejuvenates the skin, regardless of age. It removes wrinkles—every trace of them—from the face and hands, tightens up all flabby spots, and restores the glowing complexion and smooth, rounded contours of youth.

Onamor works on an entirely new principle, for it gets at the cause of wrinkles—under the skin. Wrinkles cannot be covered up or massaged out. The underlying tissue, weakened by age, must be revitalized, rebuilt. And that is what Onamor does. Onamor needs no massage. The cream itself does the work. You can feel it work, stimulating the circulation and the tissues. And you can see it work—you can watch your wrinkles disappear!

The first application will show the beneficial results of Onamor; and a few days' use, night and morning, will refine and cleanse the skin, eliminate blemishes, transform sallow complexions into a healthy peach-like glow.

Best of all, the results of Onamor are guaranteed. If you are not delighted with the remarkable effects of your very first tube, every cent you paid for it will be returned without question. You can get Onamor with this money-back guarantee from the following good stores:

Sweet Cherries May Not Set Fruit

Chief Commercial Varieties On Pacific Coast Found to be Self-Sterile—Conditions In Hudson Valley.

In the Pacific Northwest cherry growers have suffered from the failure of sweet cherries to set fruit. The trouble has been found to be due to the fact that many of the principal commercial varieties of sweet cherries are self-sterile, that is the fruit blossoms cannot be fertilized by their own pollen so that when the variety is grown in a large block, as is often the case, a very poor set of fruit results. It was also found that on the Coast Napoleon, Bing and Lambert are not only self-sterile, but that they are also inter-sterile, that is pollen from any one of these varieties fails to set fruit on either of the other two.

In the Hudson River Valley cherries generally have not been grown in solid blocks of a single variety, so that this question of the setting of fruit has not been so important as on the Pacific Coast. However, cherry growers in this region do complain sometimes of poor sets, and new plantings of sweet cherries that are being made at the present time consist largely of but one or two varieties. For this reason, Professor H. B. Tukey, who is conducting special fruit investigations in the valley under the direction of the New York Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva, has begun a study of the question of self-sterility in the sweet cherry varieties grown in this region. According to Prof. Tukey, a variety may be self-sterile in one part of the country and self-fertile in another, so that the behavior of standard commercial sweet cherries on the Pacific Coast is no indication of how they will respond to local conditions. The special studies now under way should throw light on a question which may become of considerable importance in the Hudson River Valley.

Removing Ink Stains.
To remove ink stains, wet the soiled parts with cold water, then immediately cover these spots with ground mustard. After allowing this to become entirely dry, wash the material with warm water and a small amount of soap. I have found this to be very efficient and economical in that it saves much good material from being cast aside.—Exchange.

C. H. Cleveland

WHETHER your problem is to pull the long, hard climb in high gear, or to descend the sharp down grade with sure-footed safety

—a Chandler is the only answer!

The Pikes Peak Motor made Chandler the national performance champion—a matchless conqueror of hills, fleet and brilliantly responsive in traffic.

The Traffic Transmission, with nothing new to learn for its operation, overcomes all clashing of gears and permits any driver to make a split-second, silent change from high to low or low to high at any time.

Facile handling in traffic is assured. Skidding dangers are eliminated. The instant use of the motor as a positive brake on hills becomes a certainty.

Only Chandler offers this master performance combination of invincible motor and infallible transmission.

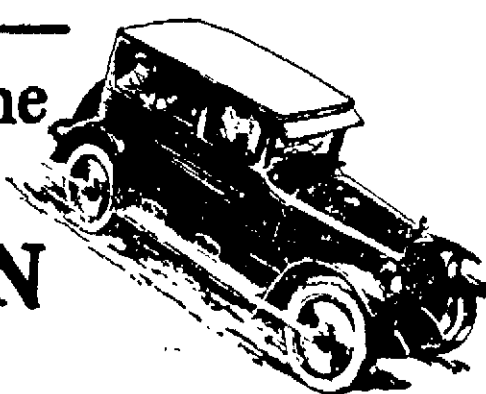

We urge you to arrange for a demonstration drive. It will be a revelation.

Despite its slight extra cost over the touring car, the illustrated model carries a Chandler Fisher body notable for its smart beauty and substantial construction.

Big Prizes in Essay Contest

By Telegram to The Freeman, Atlantic City, N. J., May 21—Superpower, farming by electricity, recent radio inventions and the results of scientific research during the last year, will be among the important topics reported upon and discussed at the 47th convention of the National Electric Light Association which opened here Monday.

The Hon. Herbert Hoover, secretary of the department of commerce, Charles A. Coffin, honorary chairman of the board of directors of the General Electric Company, and Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania will be the principal speakers on the question of superpower. Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas will discuss the application of electricity to agriculture, and David Sarnoff, vice-president of the Radio Corporation of America, will deal with the developments of radio, and particularly with the development of the use of electric light and power lines, both as antennae and as a source of current, permitting the elimination of batteries from radio sets.

One of the features of the week will be the announcement of the inauguration of a lighting educational program sponsored by the National Electric Light Association and co-operated in by every branch of the electrical industry, including manufacturers, jobbers, contractors and dealers. This program is centered around a national essay contest for school children of the country, with hundreds of smaller contests in the cities and communities of the country. The three national prizes will be three homes: the first prize a $15,000 home, the second a $10,000 home, and the third a $5,000 home, each to be erected at any point and upon any property selected by the winners. The homes will be model homes, built in accordance with the plans and specifications winning respectively first, second and third prizes in a contest being conducted by the American Institute of Architects.

Details of the plan will be announced during the week. It is understood they contemplate the expenditure of at least $500,000 and perhaps one million dollars in newspaper advertising and other forms of advertising in the various communities of the country.

Boxing Bouts Here Tonight

Willie Walker, negro middleweight and Johnny McLaughlin of Philadelphia will box the main bout of eight rounds at the armory bouts this evening. The semi-final, also of eight rounds, will bring together Bobby Wager and Jimmy Foley. There will be two six round bouts between Ritchie Martin and Kid Labrus, and Jimmy Brown and Danny Conner. There will also be three four round bouts staged. The first bout will start at 8:45 o'clock. It is expected that there will be a large attendance.

The general admission fee will be charged ladies, which will entitle them to a reserved seat.

Golf Unable to Cut Diamond Attendance

The notion that golf has become so popular that it has affected the interest in professional sport is hardly shown by the facts.

Just because a man plays golf, that does not necessarily mean that he loses interest in baseball and boxing. The attendance figures of baseball and boxing for the past two seasons have been greater than ever before, and yet golf has attracted recruits by the thousand.

Professional sport in the larger centers of population have not been touched by the golf epidemic. Week-end patronage in New York, Chicago, and other big baseball cities has not been affected by other games, but minor league baseball has suffered. Many of the minor league club owners last year were alarmed because even the holders of complimentary passes failed to attend the week-end games because they were busy playing golf.

Is cigarette taste changing?

On May 2nd we sent this wire to every one of our salesmen throughout the country.

What's back of this big shift? Why are men changing by thousands?

Note—If you have not read the telegram above, please glance through it.

Looking out from behind the scenes

BIG EVENTS happen rarely in the cigarette business—yes.

But if today you were "behind the scenes," you could sit and watch a thing going on that—in a mild way perhaps—might open any man's eyes.

The Man in the Street, the average smoker, is hardly aware that anything's happening.

He might chance to notice that Smith has changed to another cigarette. Or, sitting with a group, it might occur to him that three or four of them have "switched"—quite lately.

No—there's nothing spectacular about it.

But when every small brook starts to rise, there's a big flood in the river—and "flood" is exactly the word to describe this thing we are talking about.

What is it that is happening?

The thing that is happening is simply that, for months now, an average of over one thousand men EVERY DAY in this country (1,000 every day—think of it!) are changing from other cigarettes to Chesterfield.

Is cigarette taste changing? We don't know. But we do know that smokers are changing—over 150,000 have changed to Chesterfield since New Year's Day.

Nothing to get excited about, of course, but not a thing quite to ignore either—if you are interested in "what's what" in smoking.

Why are these men changing? Is it Chesterfield's exceptional tobaccos, the fortunate blend, the unusual freedom from "sweetening," or what? Perhaps you don't care.

Perhaps the only thing you care about is "How do they TASTE?" All right. When it comes to that, Chesterfields—if you give them the chance—will tell their own story (and prove it!) in a far better way than we can.

Such popularity
must be deserved

Chesterfield

BASEBALL SQUIBS

The percentage table is in full bloom.

The Phillies attained midseason form early this year. They are last.

Harvard boasts in Juno Myakawa, a Japanese student, its star catcher.

Denver has purchased "Mutt" Williams, right-handed pitcher, from St. Paul.

Stuart of St. Louis pitched and won a double-header against Boston on July 10 last year.

Neal Ball, former major leaguer, has been signed as coach of the New Haven Eastern league team.

Joplin has released to Orlando, Fla., a player named Willie Dash, and now the question arises "Will he?"

Walter Leverenz, the veteran pitcher, who has been a holdout, has joined the Portland Coast league team.

Also the ripening of the home-grown box score puts on the market something that always tastes like more.

Grover Alexander, with a percentage of 653, has the best average for his entire career of any major league pitcher.

Baseball on the back lots is better for schoolboys than the communism that sneaking Red propagandists are feeding to them.

The wife who formerly complained when hubby came home late from the ball game now complains when she does not go with him.

The San Francisco Seals hope to establish a precedent in the Pacific Coast league this season by winning their third successive pennant.

Burns of the Cincinnati Reds is walloping the pill in a manner that promises to give considerable worry to National league pitchers this season.

Rogers Hornsby is going to find the going much tougher in the National league this year. Both Eddie Roach and Frankie Frisch announce they are in the field for batting honors.

President Barney Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh is so well pleased with San Francisco as a training camp that he has completed arrangements with the Frisco club for training there in 1925.

Babe Ruth, in explaining the fact that he leads the American league in strikeouts as well as home runs, says, "It doesn't matter much how you get out if you don't hit 'em safe." That's one explanation.

STUDEBAKER TEAM IS STILL UNDEFEATED.

The Studebaker team of East Kingston continued its winning streak Tuesday evening at its home grounds by downing the St. Peter's Lyceum nine 8 to 3. Volker did the hurrying for the winners. Torpening and Shander were on the mound for the Saints.

On Sunday the Studebakers will play the Rosendale team at Rosendale.

The committee for the Wilkewick fire station will be appointed later by Mrs. Hall.

James J. Murphy, secretary of the committee will arrange to have slides shown at the city's movie houses calling attention to the drive. J. Graham Rose and John D. Schoonmaker were appointed a committee to have charge of the transportation of the clothing. Thomas J. Comerford, Edward L. Merritt and Mrs. C. R. Hall were appointed the publicity committee.

The clothing needed consists of warm coats, sweaters, underwear, overcoats, dresses, wool gloves, boots, shoes, hose, children's clothing of all kinds, and sheets for bandages.

William O'Reilly, who was present at the meeting, agreed to place Near East tags in all of his Sunday newspapers on that day. The cooperation of Andrew J. Murphy, Lawrence Conroy and Epstein & Kline, the other Sunday newsmen, will also be asked.

Mrs. C. R. Hall will get in touch with the city's clergy and ask them to announce the meaning and purpose of the drive from the pulpits next Sunday.

The Rev. William Nelson will take up the matter of distributing the tags with the Boy Scout organization. The meeting then adjourned.

Since the Chrysler Six brings qualities no other car can offer, you could well afford, in order to gain those qualities, to discard your present car without recompense

Do not expect a long trading allowance on any used car when you approach the purchase of a Chrysler Six.

It cannot be granted for reasons so plain and obvious that they speak for themselves.

In the first place, despite a large and steadily growing daily production, the public eagerness to own the car is far from being satisfied.

But that is not the real point—the real reason why long allowances are impossible is that the buyer gets in the Chrysler Six something no other car can offer.

Any other car offered in exchange instantly depreciates in comparison with the Chrysler because it does not possess those Chrysler qualities.

If you do not want the results the Chrysler alone gives, any good car will answer—if you do want them and value them, you will realize that the Chrysler Six renders ordinary types obsolete.

No fine car has ever been more closely priced than the Chrysler Six—and no car has ever given at any price the riding, driving, braking, accelerating, power and speed qualities peculiar to the Chrysler.

Ten minutes at the wheel of the Chrysler Six will convince you that the ownership of such a car means so much more than you have been enjoying that this is the one and only important question involved.

The Chrysler Six goes so far beyond anything else in every detail of performance, and reaches such unprecedented economy of maintenance, that you could well afford to discard your present car without getting a cent for it, in order to gain the advantages which only the Chrysler can offer.

Buffalo to Have Elks' Convention

Buffalo promises to be "all dolled up" for the 12th annual convention of the New York State Elks' Association, to be held there June 1 to 4, inclusive.

The Elks' Lodge of that city has been assured the cooperation of business men and others there in the matter of decorations.

The streets, through which the big parade of the convention is to pass, will be a vivid avenue of coloring and the entire business section of the city will be riotous in resplendent hues.

The Buffalo Elks aim to have their visitors go home with lasting and pleasurable memories of their stay here. With that end in view, they are laying much stress on the entertainment end of the big gathering.

Their guests are to be "shown the sights" at Niagara Falls, are to be taken for a cruise on Lake Erie and are to attend balls and concerts.

On the morning of the final day of the convention drill team contests will take place at the Front. Buffalo's most beautiful riverside park. The foremost lodges of the state have entered teams in this competition. Rivalry between them is said to be very keen.

Home Bureau Meeting Dates

Various local branches of the Ulster County Home Bureau will hold meetings as follows:

At Asbury, as explained at your last meeting, it is now possible to begin the food preservation week. Miss Bertha Coons, who was the leader in the food preservation work in Accord last year, has consented to give this work in the communities wishing it this year. Miss Coons will give the first lesson in Asbury on Saturday, May 24, beginning at 10 a. m., standard time, at the church hall. The lesson consists of learning the use of the steam pressure canner and canning greens and vegetables. Each one is asked to bring 2 pint jars, rubbers, 1 tablespoon, 1 teaspoon, 1 fork, 1 paring knife, kettle with cover, for blanching a wire basket, or colander, or cheese-cloth, dish cloth and a holder. Bring enough wild greens or spinach or any kind of greens to fill one pint jar, 1 pound of carrots, string beans, or asparagus, also salt.

At Milton the next regular meeting will be held on Friday afternoon, May 23, beginning at 2:30, standard time, at the Community House. The topic for discussion will be Small Kitchen Equipment, what they are made of and how they should be treated.

At Modena, the next civic meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Harcourt at Ardonia. The topic will be "County Officers and Cost of County Government." The meeting will begin at 2:30, standard time.

Tuesday, May 27, at the Wawaring the topic for discussion will be flags in dress. They will compare flags in dress from 1850 up to the present time. There will be models wearing dresses of that period and dresses of the present day. Sample of good lines will be exhibited with these.

M. E. Insurgents Urge Election of Superintendents

Minority Report Would Set Aside Method Pursued for a Century and Return to Old System of Electing—Also Want to Change Apostles' Creed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Springfield, Mass., May 21.—The insurgent group at the Methodist general conference under the leadership of the Rev. Dr. Ray Allen, of Rochester, the Rev. Charles E. Baker, of Indianapolis, Indiana, the Rev. James A. Bartholomew, of Pawtucket, R. I., and Judge John Marshall, of Topeka, Kansas, launched a movement today for election of district superintendents. The superintendents have been appointed by the bishops since 1820 and the proposed plan is to have the general conference adopt resolutions declaring for a return to the plan of electing instead of appointing. The district superintendents have charge of the churches under direction of the bishops. A majority of the judiciary committee reported against the legality of such elections but a minority headed by Dr. Allen recommended the change. The majority members point to the fact that the appointive policy has been in use for more than 100 years.

A resolution favoring nation-wide plans for better observance of the Sabbath was presented to the conference by the committee on state of the church. The proposed plan is to urge upon editors, preachers, teachers and church members the importance of proper observance of the Lord's day.

Dr. Henry H. Meyer, of New York, editor of the Methodist Church Sunday school publications, believes the increase in contributions in the schools is accounted for by the better furnishing and equipping of the schools and the use of more and better literature. He recommended to the conference the adoption of a thoroughly graded course of study.

An increase in the amount of money given for support of aged ministers was recommended to the conference by the Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Hingley, of Chicago, chairman of the board on conference claimants. The total of annuities and necessitous claims last year was $4,162,261 and there was a deficit of $1,379,661 at the end of the year. He recommends that the money necessary be secured directly from the churches.

The Rev. Josiah Abel, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and others representing a minority of members of the committee on state of the church, recommended to the conference a change in the Apostles' Creed by which the words "The Holy Catholic Church" would be stricken out and "Christ's Holy Church" substituted. The present wording is favored by a majority of the committee in a report submitted by the Rev. George Elliott, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Judge Henry Wade Rogers, of New York, chairman of the judiciary committee, reported to the conference that the committee had decided to dismiss the appeal of the Rev. William Hunter, Jr., a member of the Pittsburgh, Pa., conference, who asked for a review of his case in which he was dismissed following a trial on charges of unministerial conduct. The committee finds that he failed to make an appeal to a judicial conference prior to submitting his case to the general conference and he therefore had no grounds for a review by the general body.

Leading clergymen refused to permit the general conference to vote for them in the elections of bishops. The first ballot showed no election and several of the high men on the list refused to permit use of their names. The Rev. Dr. Merle N. Smith, Pasadena, Calif., the Rev. Dr. Merton S. Rice, of Detroit, Mich., Dr. David D. Forsythe of Philadelphia, Dr. James M. Mellett of Athens, Tenn., and Dr. E. Stanley Jones of India, refused to be candidates.

Attacks made upon the board of bishops during the conference and the attitude of many delegates toward the office are believed responsible for the unwillingness of the church leaders to accept. On the first ballot 823 votes were cast, 549 being necessary for a choice. Dr. Ralph A. Ward, of New York had 310, Dr. Rice 288, Dr. Smith 267, Dr. Jones 213, Dr. Forsythe 204. A second ballot was then taken.

Cost Rosenthal $50 to Disobey

New York Insurance Agent Finds That There is a Supreme Court Update That Enforces Its Mandates.

Joseph Rosenthal, aged 37, who says he is an insurance agent in New York, has found out that it does not pay to defy a grand jury subpoena. Rosenthal was subpoenaed by District Attorney Traver to appear before grand jury now in session to be examined as to what he knew regarding some crookedness growing out of the sale of alleged stolen automobiles, several of which have recently been recovered in Ulster county, but failed to respond. District Attorney Traver then had a bench warrant issued for Rosenthal's arrest for contempt of court in not appearing. The bench warrant was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Seth Jocelyn who went to New York Monday when he placed the warrant into the hands of Headquarters Detectives Dowd and Grady of the automobile squad who went to Rosenthal's office at 55 Second avenue and arrested the man wanted, turning him over to Deputy Jocelyn.

Monday night Rosenthal was brought to the Ulster county jail and locked up until Tuesday morning and before noon arraigned before Justice Rosch in Supreme court, where he was questioned by the court as to his failure to appear in answer to the subpoena. He gave as an excuse that he did not want to leave home and come to Kingston as one of his children had the mumps. Judge Rosch informed Rosenthal that he would decide what action to take in the matter of the contempt after opening of the court at 2 p. m., and at 2:30 o'clock the man was arraigned and after being told of the seriousness of disobeying a grand jury subpoena a fine of $50 was imposed which was paid.

It is averred that Rosenthal has been mixed up with a gang in New York that have been issuing false bills of sale for stolen automobiles which cars have been sold to others a number having been located by state troopers in Ulster county, some being recovered. While in New York police headquarters Monday, Mr. Jocelyn said he saw a stack of fake bills of sale for stolen automobiles, and the detectives Dowd and Grady told him Rosenthal had been interviewed by them on several occasions.

Shatemuck Sues For Commission

In the Sum of $1,210 For Sale of Arcadia Garage at Kerhonkson—John D. Van Kleeck, Defendant, Denies He Placed Property To Shatemuck Realty To Sell—O'Brien Awarded $1,200.

An action brought by the Shatemuck Realty Company against John D. Van Kleeck was taken up this morning in supreme court. The action is brought to recover commission for sale of the Arcadia Garage property at Kerhonkson which plaintiff claims was sold through Arthur Burns of that company to J. O. Winston, who purchased it for Mr. Schonger, one of the present owners, who was then employed by Mr. Winston as a chauffeur. Mr. Burns alleges that he met Mr. Van Kleeck and asked him if he wanted to sell the property and stated that he thought he had a purchaser. This conversation took place in one of the local banks where Mr. Burns and Mr. Van Kleeck met. He alleges that a price of $16,000 was placed on the real estate by Mr. Van Kleeck, who said that he might sell for $15,000 but requested Mr. Burns to ask $16,000. The personal property was to be sold for inventory price. This Mr. Burns alleges was $9,200. He seeks to recover 5 per cent commission on the price alleged to have been paid or $1,210. Mr. Burns alleges that he urged Schonger to go immediately to see the property and that Schonger did on the following day after he had called upon him.

Mr. Van Kleeck denies that he ever placed the property in the hands of the Shatemuck Realty Company to sell and that the property was not sold to Schonger but that the property was sold to J. O. Winston. He denies that he entered into a contract with Burns or agreed to pay any commission and that he himself offered to sell the place to Winston the purchaser. He contends that the property sold for $15,000 and the personal property at something like $15,000 more.

Schonger on the stand testified that he thought the price paid by Winston, who bought the place for him, was $15,000 for the garage property and the personal property was sold for inventory price, which was about $11,500.

Newton Fessenden and Frank W. Brooks appear for the Shatemuck Realty Company and Van Ziten & Cook for defendant.

A verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $1,200 was returned in the action brought in supreme court by John F. O'Brien against Emanuel DeLara, a negligence action. N. H. Fessenden appeared for plaintiff.

Three thousand persons crowded into the Church of the Assumption in Brooklyn where funeral services were held. Late arrivals to the number of 2,000 or more vainly sought to edge, crowd or push their way into the already overfilled church.

EXPLORE OLDEST
AMERICAN RUINSBuilding in Mexico Said to Antedate Pyramids.

Washington, D. C.—The National Geographic society has announced the sending of an expedition to Mexico to uncover the oldest structure yet found on the American continent. The ruins of Cuicuilco, south of Mexico City, constitute the Pompeii of the Western World.

Probably a thousand years before Parah drove his slaves to build the great Pyramid, and more than twice as long ago as King Tut-Ankh-Amen was buried beside the Nile, some ancient monarch of the Valley of Mexico ordered his subjects to erect a mighty monument to long-forgotten gods.

Already San Cuicuilco has disclosed an artificial mound 412 feet in diameter and 52 feet high. These observations were made by Professor Byron Cummings, leader of the Geographic society expedition, in preliminary work at the site of the amazing ruins.

Further explorations may revolutionize our history of ancient America.

Skeleton remains of the Americans of 7000 years ago, specimens of their weapons and idols, and pieces of their earthenware, found at Cuicuilco by Professor Cummings, upset current theories about the origin of human life on our continent.

Early Americans Distinctive.

"The steps of human development from the simplest beginnings are as easily traceable in the Valley of Mexico as in Mesopotamia or the Valley of the Nile," he said. "Point out as many similarities to Mongolian types, as to western Asiatic and Egyptian designs and conceptions, we must acknowledge after all that the early inhabitants of America were distinctly American. Their dissimilarities to Africans, both east and west, to Africans, and to Europeans are far more pronounced than their similarities. They form a large group of the human family, separated from the parent stock in some remote age, who, as they gradually multiplied and possessed themselves of this part of the globe, sought to surmount its obstacles and become masters of their surroundings."

The early American did not differ greatly from the early Asiatic, the early Egyptian, or even the primitive European. He offered such incense to his own gods as he thought best won his favor and co-operation, and tended his own garden and managed his own household in his own peculiar fashion; but he evolved many ideas, characteristics, and customs akin to those of his cousins across the seas.

"America thus has a prehistory extending far back into the early centuries of human development. The steps of her progress and the successes achieved are as interesting and instructive as any attained by the renowned human groups of the Old World."

The lofty mound at Cuicuilco was built and preserved by lava from the Crater Xitli. The Aztecs of Mexico were preceded by the Toltecs, and the Toltecs were preceded by a primitive people whose traces were embedded in this lava.

But the volcanic forces in the Valley of Mexico have performed a more amazing feat of preservation than did the lava at Pompeii, for under the present surface blanket of lava, known as the Pedregal, there is another and much earlier lava blanket.

It is this earlier lava flow which encases the relics of Americans of 8,000 years ago, and which, it is hoped, will disclose remains of a civilization that existed even before the primitive predecessors of the Toltecs invaded the historic valley.

Thought Scientists Sought Gold.

The lava-covered plain known as the Pedregal, or Stony Place, is 15 miles in length and about three miles wide. It has long been a refuge for revolutionaries and criminals. When Doctor Cummings and Dr. Manuel Gamio, director of anthropology in the bureau of agriculture and public works in Mexico, were doing preliminary work they found that the natives were surreptitiously digging, too, in the belief that hidden treasure was concealed there.

The expedition leader will begin work early in June, with the aid of three assistants, and peon laborers provided by the Mexican government. Nelson H. Darton of the United States Geological survey will join the party later to make a special study of the lava flow and thus determine the precise age of the ruins.

Discovers Ancient City

Under Jerusalem's Wall

London.—A further discovery carrying the history of Jerusalem five hundred years further than hitherto known, is reported by Prof. Stewart Macalister, who recently traced the ancient city of David. This latest find is the excavation of the city shows a great trench sunk in rock older than the Jerusalem well previously found, and recently formed a part of the city's defenses in the early period.

On the surface of the trench, which is eight feet deep and eleven feet wide, there is a series of broken steps, now known, for the first time of the site and which which culminated them from before the time of Abraham.

"What he unearthed within 'the earthen wall' has convinced Professor Macalister that he has penetrated into the city of Melchizedek."

Laundry Merits
Are Enumerated

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Kansas City, Mo., May 21.—The importance of the modern laundry as a factor in the health, happiness and comfort of every large city is being stressed in an educational campaign by the members of the Missouri Laundry Owners' Association in conjunction with a national campaign fostered by the national association.

The development of the laundry industry in Kansas City, according to local members of the association, has kept pace with the growth of the city. It represents one of the largest payrolls and its service is a sanitary necessity.

Value Becoming Known.

"The public rapidly is learning the value of the laundry industry," one of the bulletins sent out by the national association states. "It does a disagreeable task better than can be accomplished in the home. Its development into the present modern plants represents a large investment in buildings, machinery and equipment. Its operation requires mechanical, chemical and textile knowledge of experts. The laundry business is a science. It involves a knowledge of the chemistry of soaps, dyes and waters; chemical cleansers and their effect on fabrics; to prevent fading and shrinking."

Connected With Institute.

The national association is connected with the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, University of Pittsburgh, Pa., where present day "wash" problems are solved by experts.

Personal service to the public is the ultimate goal of the campaign, according to local members. The public by taking advantage of free expert service can learn what is best to wear, what will fade and what textiles will shrink.

Obtain Ovens Deers.

If the oven door works stiffly or squeaks, rub a little lard on the hinges and the trouble will disappear.

Nancy was fined $10.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Edward Thaw, who died at Pasadena, California, a few days ago, and who was a brother of the well-known Harry Thaw, was for a number of years president and chief shareholder of the Nitro Powder Company, which had a plant at Alingo Hollow in the town of Esopus, N. Y. He was a college classmate of the late Horace Noyes of this city, who was secretary of the Nitro Powder Company. The funeral of Edward Thaw will be held at Pittsburgh, Pa., Friday, the home of his mother.

The funeral of Mrs. Virgil Shader was held from her late residence, 49 East Chester street, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Long before that hour the home was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends, who gathered to pay their last respects to one whom in life they admired for his hearty Christian spirit and lovable character. The profusion of beautiful floral tributes completely surrounded the casket. The casket bearers were Edward C. Geschwindner, George A. Wilson, Richard E. Sleight, Richard Burger, Asa Shader and Richard Adams. At the house the Rev. Edward M. H. Knapp, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, officiated at the service and also accompanied the funeral cortege to Wiltwyck Cemetery and conducted the committal service at the grave as the body was laid to rest in the family plot.

The funeral of Mildred, daughter of Vincent and Katherine DiLullo, who died in this city on Sunday last following a short illness, was held from the residence of her parents at No. 12 Wiltwyck avenue, Tuesday morning at 8:45 o'clock and from St. Joseph's Church at 9:30, where a high Mass of requiem was celebrated for the repose of her soul by the Very Rev. Dean Joseph Joseph G. Cushman. The funeral services were very largely attended, the deceased having been a most popular young lady among the younger people and her death was a severe shock to her many relatives and friends. The love for the deceased was testified to by the abundance of beautiful floral offerings. At the conclusion of the church service St. Joseph's Church choir, very beautifully and solemnly sang, "Jesus, Jesus Come to Me." The casket bearers were six young gentlemen friends of the deceased. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery, where the Very Rev. Dean Cushman conducted the committal services.

Financial and Commercial

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, May 21.—The stock market opened fairly steady today. A few fractional declines were noted, but the majority of issues registered small gains. Business, however, was small in volume. U. S. Steel opened at 95 1/2, unchanged, Bethlehem rose 1/2 to 47, Crucible 1/2 to 43 1/2, but Baldwin lost 1/2 to 105 1/2. Studebaker was heavy, losing 1/2 to 30 1/2. U. S. Rubber First Preferred rose 1/2 to 72. Oils were steady, Pacific Oil gaining 1/2 to 47 1/2, and Standard Oil of New Jersey 1/2 to 33 1/2. Railroad shares showed a mixed trend. New Orleans, Texas, and Mexico lost 1/2 to 119 but Texas and Pacific rose 1/2 to 28. American Can rose 1/2 to 100 1/2. Industrial Alcohol rose 1 point to 63 and General Electric 1/2 to 214 1/2.

Rallying tendencies developed in the forenoon trading on the stock exchange today. Sentiment was more cheerful, resulting from more encouraging Washington news that congressional reform considering the tax revision bill were willing to modify that measure sufficiently to escape a presidential veto. There was also a growing disposition to minimize the effect of the bonus law on the immediate economic outlook, the opinion being advanced that with the cost of the operation to be spread over 20 years and the country's credit position in a superabundance state no hardships would be imposed on business.

Firmness was evident from the outset, although here and there irregularity was shown.

Motor shares were subjected to pressure due to additional reports of factory curtailment but this heaviness was erased shortly after the opening and an upward trend was definitely established.

Buying the industrial list was by no means aggressive and represented mostly the cautious re-buying of stocks sold previously on the decline. Only in a few instances did the advance have the earmarks of pool manipulations especially in such issues as Cast Iron Pipe, Philadelphia and Reading Coal, Colorado Fuel and Iron and New York Dock.

On the other hand, buying of railroad stocks, particularly the high grades, was of the best sort. Old time investment issues like Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, New York Central and the Northwestern shares improved steadily, reflecting efforts to bring their yield more in line with the prevailing low cost of money. Delaware and Hudson was very active and strong, spurring to a new high for the year at 112 1/2 on rumors regarding the segregation of its coal properties. Chesapeake and Ohio sold up to above 79, the highest price since 1913. Its persistent advance in the face of the recent failure of directors to increase the dividends led to a possible merger of the road with the Nickel Plate system on an exchange basis share for share. Part of the plan, according to reports, would be to raise the dividend on the Nickel Plate shares to 76 per cent.

HOW COHEN'S FISH

SWIM IN STRAW HAT

A great many people have been wondering how the goldfish were able to swim in a straw hat as shown in S. Cohen's Sons display window. No doubt people will be surprised to know that this was the work of J. Paul Purcell, who conceived the idea of lining the hat (And here comes the secret) with melted paraffine wax, giving a nice coating on the inside, making it absolutely waterproof. When Mr. Purcell suggested this, most of his co-workers disagreed with him and said the fish would die but by careful feeding three times a day and changing of water as many times, he was able to demonstrate his ability as an aquarist. No doubt this stunt will be copied by other hat people throughout the country as all good ideas are.

Ridgewood A. C. Here on Sunday

The Ridgewood A. C. of Brooklyn will be the attraction at the Kingston Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon when they meet the Kingston Colonials. The locals expect to have Flynn, the sensational third sacker of the New York University, in the lineup against the Brooklyn team. Last season Flynn established a record of fourteen home runs in college games. The Ridgewood team is said to be a fast team and a good game may be looked for.

FORMER K. H. S. TENNIS CAPTAIN MAKING GOOD

From a recent copy of the "Brown and White," official paper of Lehigh University, an account is given of a tennis match with the crack team from Fordham, in which the Lehigh boys were victorious.

Donald MacFadden, formerly captain of the Kingston High School tennis team, is a freshman at Lehigh and played on the winning team in such an acceptable manner as to cause the following comment by the Lehigh sport editor:

The doubles were of interest, as the college had its first opportunity to see a new man in action. Frauenheim and MacFadden appeared as a doubles combination for Lehigh. MacFadden is a freshman at present and his appearance on the squad points to a brilliant future. In spite of his inexperience in collegiate tennis, the brand of play that he produced last Saturday entitles him to a ranking equal to some of the more mature members of the team. The final score of the match was 5 to 1.

Tagging All the Bases.
The Giants are still skidding. The second defeat at the hands of the Pirates shot them into third place. It was the tenth defeat in thirteen games the Giants have suffered since hitting the road. The Pirates slammed three pitchers hard for a 12 to 3 score.

The Phillies made three homers against the Cubs but it availed naught. Chicago hammering out a 7 to 4 victory, and jumping into second place.

The elements interfered with the playing of other games on the schedule.

Stribling Defeats O'Dowd.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Atlanta, Ga., May 21.—W. L. "Young" Stribling today was proclaimed the conqueror of Dan O'Dowd, Boston light-heavyweight, after their ten round bout to a decision here last night. It was an ultra-cautious fight, devoid of the first ten of the bell to the last. Stribling led with points all the way through.

Joseph Oeschger Is Star of Giants

Joseph Oeschger, one of the stars of the Giant pitching staff, acquired from Boston during a mid-winter deal, is expected to fill the yawning gap in the formerly shorthanded pitching staff of the National league champs.

BASEBALL SQUIBS

Only rain saves some teams from being snowed under.

The chief trouble with the Browns to date seems to be the club has only one Siler.

John H. Williams, the Indian south-paw, has been sold by Rochester to Pittsfield of the Eastern league.

Miller Huggins intends to carry five catchers this year if it is possible to prune the rest of his players down to permit it.

Dick Hoblitzel, of Reading, is the first player to get six hits in as many times at bat. He performed the feat against Toronto.

So acute is the baseball fan's hearing that in spring he can detect the flapping of a pennant that won't be unfurled for 12 months.

George Fisher, outfielder of the Washington Senators, has been traded to the Minneapolis American association club for Carl East.

Roger Peckinpaugh, who was somewhat slow in rounding into fielding form this season, is doing some great shortstopping for the Nationals.

The American league has not announced the offer of a cash prize to the best player of the year, but a medal or diploma will be awarded.

Jack Roche, veteran catcher, with Oklahoma City last season, has been signed by the Denver club of the Western league and is slated to play first base.

Duke Meredith, Chicago, who starred as an outfielder with several Illinois semi-pro clubs last season, has signed with the Dubuque Mississippi Valley league team.

The modern (since 1900) record for the greatest number of games in which a pitcher has participated during a season is 66, made by Ed Walsh in 1908.

Tyrus Cobb and Luis Firpo say that they are going to retire. Sure they will—when there is no more fun and, also, no more money in their respective games.

Tom Pyle, outfielder, who was sold to Little Rock by the Sherman Texas association club, has been turned over to Muskogee of the Western association by the Travelers. Pyle hit 350 last year.

Pitcher Charles Root, obtained from the St. Louis Browns in the deal whereby Los Angeles sent Pitcher Lyons and Catcher Tony Rego to American league teams, is the pitching sensation of the Coast league.

Manager Tristram Speaker's statement at the opening of the season that Cleveland would try to win the pennant by hitting the hardest is all very well if there is at least one pitcher who can be relied upon to win consistently without the hitters.

Paddock Fastest Runner

Charlie Paddock, the fastest runner of them all, is on his own private cinder path in Los Angeles daily working out and getting into condition for the coming Olympic trials. Photograph shows Paddock at the finish of a 100-yard dash. Experts claim that Paddock is somewhat faster with his finish this season.

Oratory

"Many an orator has the crowd with him."
"Well!"
"Only they don't know what he wants, and neither does he, apparently."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
